MICROSOFT DIRECT ROUTING

Many companies deploy a Microsoft Teams strategy to enhance communications between their employees. While this is a great form of communication for team members, it requires a separate system (your telephone) to reach people outside of your company.

By leveraging the benefits of a Hosted SBC (Session Border Controller), Microsoft Direct Routing routes calls from within your Teams infrastructure to the PSTN (Public Switched Telephone Network.) Put simply, you can make calls from within Teams, not only to your team members, but to anyone who has a phone anywhere.

By utilizing Microsoft Teams in conjunction with Microsoft Direct Routing, unified communications becomes a reality for your company. Quickly deploy new remote locations without the need for a traditional phone system, another phone bill or the hassle of setting it all up. Simply connect to the internet, log on and start making/taking calls.
